PSALM 5: For You, O LORD, will bless the righteous. With favour you will surround him as with a shield.

The Body of Christ

Rev Dare Oluwaniyi.

The apostle Paul writes, "For just as the body is one and yet has many parts, and all the parts of the body, though they are many, are one body, so also is Christ" (1 Corinthians 12:12).

He explains that though one part of the body can't accomplish what another part can, this doesn't mean it is any less important.

So it is with us. We are each different, and every difference represents a unique contribution we can make in serving the Lord. Whether we are young or old, speak English as a first or second language, completed schooling or dropped out, our individual experiences and perspectives enrich the body of Christ. Or, as Paul says, "For by one Spirit we were all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether slaves or free, and we were all made to drink of one Spirit" (1 Corinthians 12:13).

We need one another in order to become our true selves, and to bring God glory through the church. "By this all people will know that you are My disciples," Jesus said, "if you have love for one another" (John 13:35). We're a family, after all—one that spans the entire earth.

Think about it: Consider the unique qualities that make you who you are. How can those be used to further God's kingdom?

TAKE HEART IT IS I.

In everything that happens to me I can hear the comforting words: "It is I. Do not be afraid!"

Do you carefully listen to hear same?

Neighbour, God is with us in every situation.

This should inspire a boundless trust in us.

Let us therefore cast out all fear for we have God's boundless love, and with Him we have everything.

SHALOM Lord, be with and stay with us in life and death.

WHEN HE SAID I AM JOSEPH, his brothers were shocked!! May God repackage you and reintroduce you to those who wrote you off...

Today, we are reminded to thank God for the breath of Life. Luke 1:78 talks about the Light of the World. Just as the dark, formless void, shapeless earth, and the lifeless clay body of man in the beginning, needed the Light to flutter over it. So the Holy Spirit of God breathes in life and light to the dead sinner's spirit. These are the mysteries of God. We are grateful for His grace. Have a great day ahead.*

This month, I declare you will be fruitful and bring forth results! Let all barrenness be broken in Jesus' name @RevDare

CARTOON

The dead birds in the nest were waiting for their mother to bring food for them but obviously the mother was killed...Listen to me, Every time you fight someone you are also fighting his/her dependants. At your working place, at your school, in your family, in your life, don't be the reason why someone is in pain. let that sink

Be a kid again

Remember how you saw God as a child? He was some kind of huge-super-fantastic hero. And Jesus was a butt-kicker that could never be beat, right?

Return to this. Sure, we live in an adult world with adult worries, but we still need a hero, don't we?

It's not believing that God will wave a magic wand and save the day.

Instead, it's the indestructible faith in God's mercy that Jesus saves our souls.

READERS' DIGEST, MARRIED? REFLECT ON THIS! A true life story you can learn from:

One day, Segun and his mentor, a multi-millionaire were relaxing and discussing some life issues, when he said 'Sir I noticed this scar on the left side of your head, how did you come about it, I have always wanted to ask you'.

The mentor replied "Segun, does your wife know anything about your finances? Does she know the least, which is the pin code of your ATM card? 'Sir, never, I can't let her. Anything about my finances for me it is a classified information, she can't know at all, She doesn't have to know how much I earn, not to talk of what I have in my account, I provide for the house, take care of her and the children, I am not slacking in my responsibilities so why should she be bothered'. 'I buy everything down to the least groceries.

Sir! am trying as a man, I will even commend myself, but giving her access to my account, I don't just like it, you know women and their frivolities, they will start demanding and buying what they don't need once they know that their husband has little change at the bank. He countered. 'Is she a spendthrift? Does she manage the home very well?' His mentor asked.

'Yes she is, but that's not the point, I don't just feel comfortable telling her or giving her access to my funds; if she needs anything let her ask, I will provide'. He responded. 'Ok, let me tell you a story....'

'There was a man, he can be considered as a good and responsible father, who like you will not slack in his responsibilities, he was caring, loving and extremely rich, he provides all that the children needed on time and will never allow them to suffer but nobody, not even his wife (like your case) knows anything about his finance. He is the sole signatory to his cheque and the only one except his account officers that know how much he has in his numerous bank account. At that time, there was no ATM, Internet Banking, USSD or Transfer, what you have is, either your cheque or passbook, where records of each of your transaction is kept with you and the bank.

One day, he called his first son, Banjo to his room and showed him a signed blank cheque, the son asked, 'father why did you have a signed blank cheque? He replied that, in life there might be that incident that might render me incapable; I might not be able to do anything and you might need money. This family might need help: this signed blank cheque is only for emergency, use it as such. Also anywhere you go always take this cheque with you,. When the need comes and you know there is no way out write any amount you need, take it to the bank and you will be paid... The son collected the cheque book and kept it very safe. The father did not know that one day, that singular act would save his life. For several years, he did not ask of the blank cheque and the son did not use it, his family lived in peace, in plenty and harmony, till one day, they embark on a journey to see his aged mother. On their way back late in the evening, on a top speed, suddenly an antelope ran across the road, as he swerved not to hit it, the car entered a pothole and summersaulted twice, finally landing in a ditch, he and 3 of the children were badly hurt, only the wife was not hurt, not even a bruise on her body. The villagers assisted in pushing the car out of the ditch and the accident victims were rushed to the Hospital.

The doctors attended to them immediately and requested the wife make a down payment of 250,000 to commence further treatment. The wife deposited 50,000 she had on her, with a promise to look for the rest. The hospital gave her three days. At that time there was no mobile phone only the rich people had telephones in their homes. The wife ran to NITEL, to call his aunt.

Telephone ringing ...'Hello, Hello, ma, it's me Desola, we had an accident Kunle and the Children are hospitalized, please I need 200,000 to deposit at the Hospital for their treatment. The wife spoke excitedly. Hello! Ma, sorry ma! It's me Ndidi, madam and Oga, have travelled to London, if she calls I will relay your message. I don't know her London phone number, it was the house help who picked her call. The wife called three of the husband's friends and business associate, each gave different excuses. All she could raise was 50,000, which someone promised to send to her the next day. With a balance of 150,000 remaining she was in dilemma.....At the time she was running helter skelter looking for that money, her critically ill husband had over 5million in a single account, and more than 7 million in other accounts, when she was struggling to raise.

The wife returned to the hospital to see how her family were faring and plead for more time with the Hospital management. They told her that her husband is still in coma, but two of the children are awake, she was taken to the ward to see them...

'Banjo, sorry, how is your body? She rushed at her son, Am fine ma, he replied, 'how is Sukanmi? He asked, He is getting better too The hospital asked me to pay 250,000 and all I could raise is 100,000, your father is still in coma and I don't know what to do, she started crying. Mummy don't cry, don't cry,

I have exhausted every means I could to get more money and your father's aunt who would be of help has travelled to London. She continued sobbing. Mommy, Mommy! Wait! I have a cheque, yes I have a cheque, daddy gave me this cheque long ago, it is a signed blank cheque for one of his account, it is in my bag, I always kept it safe and I took it with me when we wanted to travel, He shouted... Are you sure? 'Yes Mommy, check my bag, I hope you see it...

She went to the police station where the car was tolled and requested to check the car. Her request was granted, and she saw the signed blank cheque. Tears of joy flooded her eyes, although It was only one leaflet of the blank cheque that was signed, still she didn't know how much her husband has in the account, she is only aware her husband is rich enough, so she wrote 250,000. At the bank she presented the cheque and she was paid. She cleared the hospital bills and her family was given the desired treatment. The husband came out of coma, and the children were discharged after awhile.

'I want to ask what did you think might have happened if he didn't give the signed blank cheque to his son that day?' The mentor asked.

Femi replied, 'the hospital might have stopped treatment, or detain them till the required fund is provided. If treatment was stopped he might probably have died, but sir, the irony was that he had 5million in his account, when his wife was looking for #250,000! Imagine, because the wife doesn't have the information. 'Back to the scar on my left head, that was how I got it and the man am taking about is me. The Mentor said. Femi was dumbfounded...The wife walked in and said lunch is served, the man turned to his wife and said

'Babe, how much do I worth at present?' 750 million in cash, 500 million in assets and 250 million in liability. She replied. Femi gasped 'Since the day, after I recovered from that accident, I don't hide anything from my wife again, not my business or transactions, she has the pin of my ATM, she knows the code of my token, she has a copy of all my properties and financial records. Also I set up an emergency fund account which anyone of us can access in case of emergency. If you can sleep with someone, you should be able to trust them with your money. If you don't trust your wife, have someone you can trust'... He advised.

'Femi, always remember in life, there are some incidents that can render you incapable, incapacitated, that you might not be able to access your fund or money, let your significant other person know where that password is kept, let her know the code to unlock that account, because that might actually save your life. Don't die because of 250,000naira, when you have millions in an account nobody knows anything about. Let's go and have lunch. Femi said in his mind 'this sounds like a good advice, should I let my wife know my account details and my ATM pin or not? Still he is not too sure.

As a man or woman will you allow your partner to know a lot about your finances or gain access to your account through your ATM pin or token"? Hope you have learnt something from the above?

As you CONTINUE the journey of July, the month of perfection, every situation will turn to testimonies for you. God will make good things fall in place for you and there shall be turn around in your life.

In this July of completeness, heaven will single you out for astonishing miracles and testimonies. You shall be greatly helped and blessed from above. God will remember you as He remembered Zion. He will surprise you with His Grace, and cause you to dance like David danced. God shall be there for you at every point of your needs, the blessings of God shall not pass you by, His glory shall surely manifest in your life.

Those who stand on your progress shall stumble and fall, and may all the curses from your enemies be turned into blessings. Those who hate you will have no choice but to rejoice with you. From this day onward, favour is yours. Forward ever and backward never.

I celebrate you my beloved. Good morning and have a Victorious day and a wonderful week. Remain Blessed.* all round blessings.

PRAYER POINTS

- Dear Lord, I come to you with a broken spirit and contrite heart. I am sorry Lord for all my sins, forgive me and create in me a new heart, in Jesus name.
- Every covenant that I may have entered into with the devil and his agents, I break and nullify them today, in Jesus name.
- Devil, you have no legal hold on me anymore! I have been redeemed and purchased by the precious blood of the Lamb of God. Therefore, I renounce any association with you, in Jesus name.
- Lord, increase my faith O God and help my unbelief, in Jesus name.
- Father, give me the grace to remain steadfast even in trials, in Jesus name.
- Help me O Lord, to love and serve you with all my heart, in Jesus name.
- I bind every spirit of distraction and vanity, in the name of Jesus.
- Lord, forgive me for placing anyone or anything above you, in Jesus name.
- By faith in your word, we cancel every program and plan of war in our nation, in Jesus name.

"No matter what happens, no matter how far you seem to be away from where you want to be, never stop believing that you will somehow make it. Have an unrelenting belief that things will work out, that the long road has a purpose, that the things that you desire may not happen today, but they will happen. Continue to persist and persevere." - Brad Gast

This July,

Mercy shall re-write your name in the book of success, Untimely death will not be your portion, You'll complete whatever project you started. in Jesus name!!!

Hold on tight

Can I handle it all?
Is it too much? Just living every day, fighting the good fight takes its toll. Where is the easy life? It doesn't exist here. Nobody has it easy. No one lives free... unless...

I look upon you hanging there. What do I see? A failure... a lost dream... hope broken to pieces. A wide river of blood and tears flowing out. Is it really finished?

This is how you ended your natural time on earth. What does this mean to me here? Now?

Yes, you will rise again, for it is written in Scripture ... and on my heart. Still, I can not overlook the cross. It must happen. Can I embrace mine as you did?

Did you wish your pain away? The hardest part, the greatest suffering, the deepest humiliation... The will of your Father nourished you no matter what the cost.

And so the sacrifice transforms into glory.

May I hold tight to my cross as you did. May I carry my cross, and it will carry me. It's the mission. The Way, the Truth and the Life. For only this way can I follow you, Gloriously into the arms of Our Father. Finally heaven. Finally free.

TOPIC: HOW IDOLS AFFECTED THE ISRAELITES IN THE LAND OF CANAAN III

TEXT: Judges 10:6-18, 17:1-13

MEMORY VERSE: Judges 10:6-7 KJVS

[6] And the children of Israel did evil again in the sight of the Lord, and served Baalim, and Ashtaroth, and the gods of Syria, and the gods of Zidon, and the gods of Moab, and the gods of the children of Ammon, and the gods of the Philistines, and forsook the Lord, and served not him. [7] And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon.

INTRODUCTION:

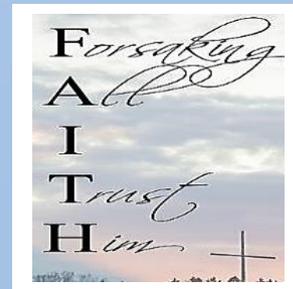

The children of Israel were never tired of whoredom, from generation to generation they kept vexing God with their idolatry. In Judges Chapter 10,11,12 and 13 because there was no king in Israel everyone does what seems right before him, they did evil by serving other gods. God raised many Judges for them whenever He delivered them into the hand of their enemies as a punishment. We have judges like Tola, Jair, Jephtah, Ibzan, Elon, Abdon and Samson who were raised as deliverers for the children of Israel.

LESSON

THE ISRAELITES FORSOOK THE LORD (PART THREE)

· "And the children of Israel did evil again ..." (Judges 10:6-7)

1. How many gods were they serving according to the above passage?
2. God sold them into the hands of the Philistines and the children of Ammon. Yes/No?
 - a. According to Judges 10:11-12, how many nations did the Lord God deliver them from?
 - b. "Yet ye have forsaken me and served other gods; wherefore I will deliver you no more, go and cry to the gods which ye have chosen; Let them deliver you in time of your tribulations." Judges 10:14.
 - c. Was God justified in refusing to deliver them? Explain.
 - d. Why did the Israelites serve gods that cannot deliver them from tribulations? Discuss.
3. According to Judges 10:15-17 and Act 3:19, do you see God as being compassionate?
 - a. Is He compassionate in your life?
4. Who was Jephthah and why was he rejected by his brethren according to Judges 11:1-11?
 - a. Compare Jephthah's story with John. 1:46? Why must we not despise anybody?
 - i. Discuss.

CONCLUSION:

"Jesus said unto her, woman believes me the hour cometh when ye shall neither in this mountain nor yet at Jerusalem worship the father. Ye worship what ye know not: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews. But the hour cometh and now is when the true worshippers shall worship the father in spirit and in truth: for the father seeketh such to worship him. God is a spirit and they that worship him must worship him spirit and in truth." John 4:21-24.

THE FOUNTAIN YOUTHS

OVERCOMERS

PERSONAL ENEMY #1

I've Got My Rights!

A senior high girl we'll call Susan came to see her youth leader, Bill. Wow! Was she mad! She explained her problem:

"My sister is in the eighth grade and she's always borrowing my clothes. She's larger than I am and when she wears them, she stretches them.

Instead of hanging them up, she crumples them into a ball and hides them under the bed. This gets me so mad that we're always fighting.

"To make things worse, my mother always sides with her. One time she wore a new pair of slacks I had bought. When I went to put them on, I found she had fallen and one whole knee was ripped out."

It's easy to see why Susan was mad. Didn't she have the right to her own clothes? And didn't she have the right to be treated fairly by her mother? Sure she did. You couldn't really blame her for being angry.

In the conversation that followed, Bill explained to her that "rights" go with ownership. If you own something you have the right to say how it is used. If somebody else owns it, they have that right.

Bill suggested that if she transferred the ownership of her clothes to God, then God would have the right to them and how they were used. He would also have the responsibility for them.

Here is part of the conversation:

Bill: "This may sound strange to you, but have you ever thought about giving your clothes to God?"

Susan: "Giving my clothes to God? What does God want with my clothes?"

Bill: "Well, if you give your clothes to God, then they will belong to Him. He will have the right to control their use. And, if they belong to Him, He will be responsible to take care of them. If they are God's clothes, you won't have anything to get mad about if your sister uses them."

Susan: "That sure sounds strange. What if I give my clothes to God and my sister still borrows them and ruins them?"

Bill: "When you dedicate your clothes to God and your sister takes them, she will be taking God's clothes. When this happens, you can share your problem with the Lord and you will see how powerful He really is. He can take care of His property."

Susan: "That sure sounds strange, but I'm willing to try it."

TURN BACK TO GOD

How To Deal With Failures

To come to Jesus is easy. But to follow His footsteps is a tough job, especially when, during the course of our journey of life when we have to halt at the station of failure. Not knowing whether, the halt is going to be a permanent stay.

Failure becomes difficult to accept when one fails at the point of winning. For a moment everything comes to standstill when, the atmosphere, to this very moment was encouraging us to win, all of a sudden, pushes us into the pit of failure. People who were once confident about our victory are now confident about us failing. More than our own lack of success it is the people's rejection that makes us get drowned into the ocean of failures. We fail, but we make the people the final judge of our life and destiny, ignoring the reasons of our failure. It's like 'failure' is the 'stepping-stone' not to our success, but, the 'foundation-stone' for the public judgment! A very disheartening and disappointing moment of life, because we are letting ourselves be slaves of our failures and rejections.

The power of negativity

The chains of death are so tightly tied from the crown of our head to the very soles of our feet that we easily allow us to be consumed by the power of negativity. The power is so strong that every heartbeat makes us feel lonely, hurt, humiliated and weak. It is at this moment of crisis that our sweet Jesus gently embraces us and softly whispers into our ears, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock." (Rev. 3:20)

"I know you through and through – I know everything about you... I know what is in your heart – I know your loneliness and all your hurts – the rejections, the judgments, the humiliations. I carried it all before you. And I carried it all for you, so that, you might share My strength and victory. I know especially your need for love – how you are thirsting to be loved and cherished. But how often have you thirsted in vain, by seeking that love selfishly, striving to fill the emptiness inside you with passing pleasures – with even greater emptiness of sin. Do you thirst for love? Come to Me all you who thirst... I will satisfy you and fill you. Do you thirst to be cherished? I cherish you more than you can imagine – to the point of dying on a cross for you.

Death is transformed into a new life when we shift our focus from ourselves to the Lord. For, Christ is love and His love gives this new life. "The water that I will give him will become in him a spring which will provide him with life-giving water and give him eternal life." (Jn. 4:14) Man is born with the spring of life in him and chosen to the royal sceptre of Christ the King. The Lord of Glory gives us the dignity which is far beyond our failures

The Lord says, "I am the resurrection and life. Whoever believes in me will live, even though he dies; and whoever lives and believes in me will never die." (Jn. 11:25-26) He is calling you and me to face the challenges of failures and rejections boldly and defeat the strong evil forces by the spirit of our Mighty God for, "the spirit who is in you is more powerful than the spirit in those who belong to the world." (1 Jn. 4:4) And the victory is ours for the glory of our Lord.

What to do with failures

Every failure that comes our way must be treated gently and not with intense fear. Failure in any field does not mean that we lack the potentiality to win and succeed, it's just that we need to do it in a different way. The reasons could be many. One has to accept one's failure gracefully and surrender it at the feet of our Lord. Like the woman who touched Jesus' cloak, we also need to come up in the crowd, the crowd full of failures, rejections and loneliness and touch the edge of His cloak and experience the quick healing of our Lord, "My daughter, your faith has made you well. Go in peace." (Luke 8:48) Abba Father, the creator of our being, is the only solution to every problem of ours. He is the ultimate medicine to all our unconquerable tasks and failures. He is the perfect antidote to our suffering.

Dear readers in Christ, I do realize that writing volumes on failures and success are easy. In real life the situation is tough. If I consider this page as my confessional, I sincerely confess that at present I am struggling to swim against the harsh waves of failures and defeat. At times, the force is so strong that my limbs grow weak and I feel that I am drowning, it's hard, and it's really very hard. But why not my sincere readers, dare to face our challenges boldly and proclaim, "With God on our side we will win; He will defeat our enemies." (Ps. 108:13)

Let's be the true brave soldiers of God and fight our enemies back, the strong enemies of failures, sufferings, rejections, loneliness, humiliations, sicknesses and all the negative forces. Let us believe in our Lord Jesus Christ, for "not a single hair from your heads will be lost. Stand firm, and you will save yourselves." (Luke 21:18)

READERS' DIGEST.

I went together with a friend to visit his Dad. Also with his siblings. We were there for restitution. Over 17 years ago, a false allegation was said against their Dad after a disagreement ensued between their Dad and their Mom.

Their mom was deeply hurt and in return, she went to the church where the man was pastoring to accuse the man of beating her. While she appeared in the church, she appeared with bruises. The church called the children. My friend who was young then confirmed that his Dad beat his mom. And same as his siblings also.

The church committee had no choice than to remove their Dad from the role of the church pastor. Not suspending him but totally excommunicated him. Following this, was separation. Both parent never lived together again.

My friend agreed to be home on the day his mom claimed his Dad had beaten her. He said his Dad didn't touch her mom. And though, several years later. The guilt of accusing their Dad wrongly, never left them. It was the last of the siblings, his sister that reopened the matter.

My friend said even with their actions; their Dad saw all of them through their university years while they stayed with their mom whenever they need to. And after 17 years, they sought for their Dad to ask for forgiveness.

The man was literally crying as his children seek for forgiveness. He mentioned that certainly, the truth prevails as long as there is life. He said they had come of age to understand to put things right. He said he forgave them long ago knowing they were young.

Their Dad died following day. This was In March. Surprising, he wasn't sick.

SO SAD

An old man was inside a train, he stood up and said to the passengers, "JESUS IS COMING SOON!"

A woman then shouted, "Shut up, you don't know anything and your Jesus doesn't even exist."

The old man was embarrassed and sat down. But God kept putting on his heart to rise again, and keep talking about the coming of Jesus. He obeyed the voice of God and stood up again saying, "Jesus is coming back, we need to repent of our sins and accept Him today."

Then the woman who had shouted before rose with her child next to her in the seat, and attack the poor old man.

As she continued attacking the poor old man her child said to her. , "Stop hitting him mommy, he is sent from God."

Then the woman fell to her knees and began to cry!

The old man asked her, "Why are you crying?"

The woman said: "My son was mute (dumb) and now he is talking!"

Moral of the story: no matter what you face in life never stop trusting God. GOD IS ALIVE!

Jacob looked at Joseph and saw a good son.

The ten brothers looked at Joseph and saw a useless dreamer

The travellers looked at Joseph and saw a slave!

Potiphar looked at Joseph and saw a fine servant

Potiphar's wife looked at Joseph and saw a potential lover (boyfriend)!

The prison officers saw in Joseph a prisoner!

HOW WRONG WERE ALL OF THEM!

Because God looked at Joseph and saw a PRIME MINISTER OF EGYPT IN WAITING!!

Don't be discouraged by what people see in you or what life may seem to offer.

But be encouraged by what God sees in you and what HE says you are,

Weeping may endure through the night but joy cometh in the morning.

Never underrate yourself because you never know what the LORD has deposited in you and or what HE has in store for you.

David got the anointing of becoming a King while he was a simple child herding sheep.

Esther was a simple orphaned girl yet she was a Queen in the waiting.

In life some may walk, others may run, but remember God gave the tortoise and the horse the same days to reach Noah's ark.

Your journey might be slow, rough and tough but will definitely get to your destination in Jesus mighty name.

God bless you

LAST WORD

I don't know about you, but I tend to be a worrier. I think you might be a worrier, too. For what it's worth, I think that's because most people are worriers, and you are not alone.

I remember very clearly a conversation with a friend that went something like this:
Alison: "I am a champion worrier. I wish people could pay me to worry about their problems for them. I would be rich."
Me: "Yeah, I know how that feels. I would pay you to worry for me if it meant I didn't have to do it myself."

It was all very tongue-in-cheek, but the point is that we both felt like worry was consuming our thought lives - and subsequently, our actual lives.

It doesn't have to be that way. In fact, the Bible says that it shouldn't be that way:

"Finally, brothers and sisters, whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable—if anything is excellent or praiseworthy—think about such things. Philippians 4:8 (NIV)

For the Spirit God gave us does not make us timid, but gives us power, love and self-discipline. 2 Timothy 1:7 (NIV)

So if we are to think about whatever is excellent or praiseworthy and to do it in boldness... how? How do you change from constant worry and stress to boldness, power, and self-discipline?

You pray. Pray that God will take away the timid spirit and the worry. Pray that you will be able to trust Him completely and see His goodness. Because that's what worry is all about, is it not?

You are not trusting God to do what is best for you and your family. It's a trust issue, not a worry issue.

Read that again: worry is a trust issue. You are not trusting God to be faithful and good to you.

The only way to shed that feeling, that belief, is to pray, read scripture, and learn to trust Him more. That's it.

Let me also pause to say that if you worry is causing you to be paralyzed and unable to function in your life, you probably need to see a doctor and/or a therapist.

Anxiety disorder is a real medical thing that needs to be treated with medication and talk therapy. I don't discount that at all.

In fact, one of my children has an anxiety disorder that is treated with medical interventions. Don't be ashamed to get help if you need it.

For most of us though, worry is not a medical issue. It's a trust issue. I want to help you to see that God loves you and will be there for you no matter what. You can trust Him to have your back and provide you whatever you need.

LAUGHTER'S THE BEST

I haven't been online since, because I was teaching my auntie how to faint 😊😊 she ate her church committee's money 🤔🤔🤔🤔

Somebody cannot cough in peace again...everybody will just be looking at you Coronically.

Zimbabwe Pastor arrested for selling tickets to Heaven

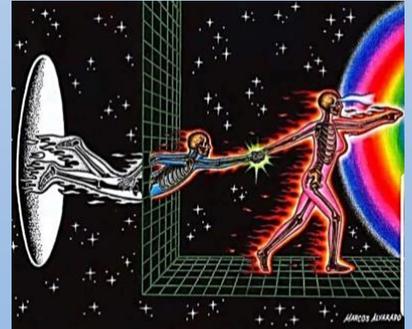

A Pastor in Zimbabwe has been arrested together with his wife for allegedly selling tickets to heaven.

Pastor Tito Wats told thousands of people that it was Jesus who appeared to him, then gave him tickets to people especially sinners so that they could also enter heaven.

Go to sleep with a prayer. Pray about everything, talk to God. Just let it out, all the good, all the bad. He's always listening, prayer does change things. Even if you think God isn't listening, let me tell you He always is. He's always working on something for you. Breathe and ask for forgiveness and also forgive others. Remember, tomorrow is a new day. Start fresh & clean.
